Super-blog

Made by Luis Molina and Corina Pérez

What lessons we've learned during this project

- We improve the fetch knowledge
- how to use bootstrap
- async await functions
- json-server
- play with postman

What problems we've encountered when developing this project

At the beginning, we didn't have any problems with the design and planning of the project.

The problems came after, in the develop:

- Troubles with fetch: The fetch at the start were so slow, and we need to search about the "async,await" utility
- Bootstrap: When we started to use bootstrap, we thinked about how to translate(including design) the default content to our planning.